

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. EXPLANATION OF MAP.

The outline of coast within the Blue and Red limits, with the exception of the Lake boundaries indicates the present outline of the Island.

The sea current running with great force from Peel northward to Jurby Point has gradually washed away the drift gravel formation, and deposited a portion of the same at the Point of Ayre. Several other changes from similar causes have taken place at Shellack Promontory, Langness, and Niarbyl Point.

In the arrangement of the work I have been guided by the Admiralty, Speed's, Bullock's, and Drinkwater's maps.

The area of the large tracks of land washed away by the sea in the N.W. and other parts of the Island is computed from private Estate Plans and the Tithe Maps deposited Rolls Office.

That portion of the Island from $54^{\circ} 20'$ northwards, indicated by horizontal lines, represents low marshy ground.

The land (marked red) at the Point of Ayre and Douglas Bay is of recent formation.

A D V E R T I S E M E N T .

THE muniments contained in the present volume form the civil and political history of the Isle of Man : and, though their use will be chiefly confined to the scholar and the antiquary, still the history of the people may be read by a reference to corresponding parts of particular events. They embrace a period from 1134 to Henry the Fourth's time, and will eventually be brought down to near the present epoch. When completed, it is hoped they will form the basis of an enlarged account of the Island, the real history of which has yet to be written.

For the beautiful map accompanying this work, I am indebted to my talented young friend Mr. William Taylor Bell, of Mount Vernon, to whose unwearied exertions and indefatigable zeal I owe its appearance in the present volume. My thanks are also due to the Rev. J. G. Cumming, M.A., of Welshpool, for his invaluable assistance in determining the situation of the ancient lakes ; as well as to Dr. Oswald and Mr. Kneale, of Duke-street, for defining the position of the now almost forgotten Keills. To Mr. H. B. Noble I am indebted for an opportunity of perusing the scarce and important treatise of Professor Munch on the Chronicon Manniæ; and likewise to the following gentlemen, for the use of numerous books, maps, plans, etc. :—His Honor the Clerk of the Rolls; Her Majesty's Seneschal; the Receiver-General; James Gell, High Bailiff; R. J. Moore, High Bailiff; William Farrant, Ballamoar, and James Burman, Esquires.

unless the Catholic service of the king of heaven be there observed. Therefore I Olaph, with the assent of wise and good men in council, have decreed and resolved, that the Christian religion in my kingdom shall be preserved entire under its own bishop, rather than be rendered desolate under strangers, and as it were mercenaries, who seek their own and not the Lord's advantage. Know therefore and bear testimony to the truth, that by virtue of my discretion, I have committed and for ever granted to the church of the blessed Mary of Furness on account of the proximity of the place, yea and for the excellent life of the inhabitants, the honor of the said episcopal election, and the observance of my whole law of Christianity, saving always the reverence due to the Apostolic See. And in order that the same may be more perfect and more strictly observed, I have decreed a certain portion of my land for the erection of an abbey for the said church, as another charter witnesseth, for a most free and

LETTER OF OLAVE I. TO THE ARCHBISHOP OF YORK.—A.D. 1134.

LETTER OF THE KING OF THE ISLANDS REQUESTING THAT HIS BISHOP SHOULD BE CONSECRATED AT YORK.*

OLAVE, by the grace of God, king of the Islands, to Trustino [Thurstan] by the same grace Archbishop of York, greeting and prayers in Christ. The fame of your sanctity spreading throughout the whole world, which both the illustrious renown of your predecessors, and your own virtue in private as well as public acts do not permit to remain hidden, has in no small degree rejoiced us. We praise therefore the wonderful

EX REGISTRO DE ECCLESIA EBOR.

OLAVUS, Dei gratiâ Rex Insularum Trustino eadem gratiâ Eboracensi Archiepiscopo salutem et oraciones in Christo. Fama sanctitatis vestre orbem terrarum circumquaque pertingens, quam et majorum vestrorum insigne preconium et virtus vestra cum privatis tum publicis actibus illustris in abscondito latere non sinunt, nos quoque non parum letificavit. Collaudamus igitur Regis omnipotentis magnalia, gracias agentes ei, quia magnificaworks of the omnipotent king, giving him thanks, and we magnify the Lord for what he has done for you, who has exalted you in dignity and sanctity above all our neighbours. For the rest, we signify unto you, that the lord Eudo, abbot of the monastery of Furness, from whose possessions we are not far distant by sea, at our tripartite petition and persuasion, the fame of the religion of the said place having been reported to us, entered with confidence upon the arduous undertaking, and has come to us at great labour for the fruitful occupation of extending the church, under the inspiration of the Almighty. Finally, it has been determined among us, both by our decree, and the solemn advice of the people, that a chief bishop should be chosen from among his people, who may direct the propagation of Christianity among the inhabitants of the Isles. Wherefore we call upon you, and humbly implore the grace of your benevolence to ratify by the imposition of your hands, that which by common diligence vit dominus facere vobiscum, qui vos super omnes vicinos nostros dignitate atque sanctitate exaltavit. De cetero significamus vobis, quod dominus abbas Eudo Furnensis cenobii à cuius finibus non longè per mare distamus, audientibus nobis famam religionis ejusdem loci, tripartitâ petione, persuasioneque nostra iter quamvis arduum tamen confidenter aggressus, compensato itaque et itinerandi onere laborioso, et labore super ecclesia dilatandâ fructuoso, Domino aspirante, ad nos usque pervenit. Denique et nostro decreto et plebis consultu sancitum est inter nos, ut ex suis pontifex eligeretur, qui christianitati per insulas gentium propagande preficeretur. Qua propter ad vos conclamamus, vestreque benignitatis graciam humiliter imploramus, quatinus imposicione manuum vestrarum ratum fiat quod communi has been so providentially procured to be done, to the honor of God and the safety of our souls, namely, that our bishop may be promoted as soon as possible to the rank of bishop under the authority of your seal, for the love of God and of us. The lord Abbot therefore relating to us such wonderful and holy things of you, and saying that he was unwilling and unable to go to any other, but to you his father, filled with great joy for all things, we have rendered thanks to God as far as we are able : we bid your holiness in the Lord farewell.

diligenciâ tam provide procuratum est fieri, ad honorem Dei, et salutem animarum nostrarum, scilicet, ut episcopus noster ad episcopi gradum sub auctoritatis vestre signaculo pro Dei amore et nostri, quam ciecius fieri potest permoveatur. Narrante nobis igitur domino Abbe tam mira, tamque sancta de vobis, dicenteque se nolle nec posse ad alium quem piam ire, nisi ad vos patrem suum, gaudio magno repleti pro universis, gracias Deo nostro prout potuimus, persolvimus : valeat sanctitas vestra in Domino.¹

BULL OF POPE EUGENIUS III. TO FURNESS ABBEY.

A.D. 1153.

EUGENIUS, bishop, servant of the servants of God, to my beloved son John, abbot of St. Mary of Furness, and to his brethren both now and to come, professing a regular life. The order of reason and the force of equity oblige us to grant to petitioners their just request, especially when seeking their desires, piety directs, and the truth is not relinquished. Therefore, beloved sons in the Lord, agreeable to your mild and just petitions, the church of the blessed Mary of Furness, in which you are engaged in divine service, we take under the protection of the blessed Peter and of us, and defend the community by these

CHARTER OF GODRED.—A.D. 1154.

G [ODRED] by the grace of God, king of the Islands, to all the sons of Holy Mother Church, present and to come, greeting. It is the duty of good children to follow in the footsteps of religious parents and to guard uninjured and entire those things which they, in their times, shall have piously and religiously determined, which I, G[odred,] king of the Islands, considering, have given and granted to the church of the Holy Mary of Furness, full liberty to elect a chief bishop of the Isles, like as the charter of my father Olave testifies. BULL OF POPE CELESTINE III. TO FURNESS ABBEY.

A.D. 1194.

CELESTINE, bishop, servant of the servants of God, to his beloved sons the abbot of Furness, and all his brethren of the Cistercian order serving God, greeting and apostolic benediction. The holy Roman church is wont, from a sense of assured piety, to love more sincerely those devoted and humble sons, and, like a pious mother, is accustomed to cherish those, by the safeguard of her protection, whom she knows to be more devoted to the Roman church, and to cleave to her divine obsequies. On that account, O beloved sons in the Lord, knowing the sincerity of your devotion for the Roman church, and regarding the religious fervour which ye bear for the Cistercian order, we graciously accede to your just requests, and confirm to you by our apostolic authority, and strengthen it by the support of this present writing, the churches of Dalton and Ursewic, with the chapels, and all their appurtenances and liberties, with tenths and oblations in relief of the poverty of your house, and for the perpetual support of the convent for the service of God. For which it is lawful for you to present to the bishop, befitting priests, ministering in your name, who may be answerable to him for the care of souls, and who perform episcopal rights according to the custom of the province, but may faithfully pay unto you the tenths and oblations, and provide surely [for the same.] We expressly forbid any bishop, archdeacon, or deacon, or their officials to promulgate a sentence of excommuni-obsequiis noverit adherere. Ea propter dilecti in domino filii vestre devotionis sinceritatem quam erga romanam ecclesiam habere noscimini, et Cisterciensis ordinis quem geritis religiosum fervorum attendantes vestris justis postulacionibus clementer annuimus, et ecclesias de Dalton et de Ursewic cum capellis et omnibus pertinenciis earum, et libertatibus cum decimis et obventionibus ad domus vestre paupertatem relevandam, et conventum in servitio Dei perpetuo sustentandum, vobis auctoritate apostolica confirmamus et presentis scripti patrocinio communimus. In quibus liceat vobis presbiteros idoneos nomine vestro ministrantes episcopo presentare, qui ei de cura animarum respondeant et secundum consuetudinem provincie jura episcopalia reddant, vobis vero decimas et obvaciones fideliter persolvant et securitatem impendant. Prohibemus districcius ut nullus epis-cation, or suspension, or interdict against the churches aforesaid, or their ministers, without the judgment of the general chapter, or of the synod, and this only for faults peculiarly manifest; or to oppress them with tallage, or any other exactions, excepting such as are determined in the Lateran council. And if any sentence, other than has been mentioned, shall be pronounced against the aforesigned churches, or their ministers, we, by the authority of these presents, decree it of no effect. And if a bishop or any of his officials shall require from you anything opposed to the liberty and custom of your order, it shall be free for you to refuse it, lest, on a like occasion, your order, which has hitherto remained free, should be bound by a tie of service. And if a bishop or his official should, on this account, promulgate any sentence against you or your monastery, or your servants, or the priests ministering in your churches, in your name, we deem copus, archidiaconus, vel decanus, aut eorum officiales, in ecclesiis predictas vel earum ministros excommunicationis vel suspensionis aut interdicti sententiam absque generalis capituli vel synodi judicio et hoc non nisi pro culpis propriis clarescentibus audeat promulgare seu eas tallagiis, hospiciis, vel aliis aliquibus exactionibus preter quod statutum est in Lateranensi concilio prægravare. Si qua vero sententia in prenominate ecclesiis aut earum ministros aliter quam dictum est lata fuerit, eam auctoritate presencium decernimus non tenere. Si vero episcopus vel alias quilibet officialium ejus aliquid a vobis contra libertatem et consuetudinem ordinis expecierit, liberum sit vobis denegare ne tali occasione ordo vester qui hactenus liber exststit, servitutis laqueo vinciatur. Quod si episcopus vel ejus officialis propter hoc in vos vel monasterium vestrum sive in servientes vestros aut in sacerthat the same is not altogether valid. Moreover, in the election of a bishop for the Isles, we confirm by our apostolic authority, the liberty which their kings of good memory, namely, Olaws and Godred his son, gave to your monastery, as is contained in their authentic [writings]. And it is permitted to no man to contradict this our page of confirmation and constitution or to infringe upon it in any way. But if any one should attempt the same, let him know that he will incur the anger of Almighty God, and of the blessed Peter and Paul his apostles. Dated at Rome, at St. Peter's, the tenth of the Kalends of June, in the fourth year of our Pontificate.

Preterea in eligendo episcopum insularum libertatem quam reges earum bone memorie videlicet Olaws et Godredus filius ejus monasterio vestro contulerunt, sicut in autenticis eorum continetur, auctoritate vobis apostolica confirmamus. Nulli ergo omnino hominum liceat hanc paginam nostre confirmacionis et constitutionis infringere vel ei aliquatenus contraire. GRANT OF KNIGHT'S FEE TO REGINALD.

A.D. 1213.

JOHN, by the grace of God, etc., to all, etc. know that we have given, and by this our present charter confirmed to Reginald, King of Mann, for his homage and service, one knight's fee in Ireland, at Karlingford, on the sea, in the province of Ulster, which the lord bishop of Norwich has assigned him there; together with one hundred measures of corn to be paid yearly at Drogheda, to have and to hold, to him and his heirs, of us and our heirs, for a service fee of one knight. Wherefore we will, and firmly command, that the aforesaid Reginald and his heirs, have and hold the aforesaid fee and its appurtenances fully and in peace, freely and quietly as aforesaid.

FOR THE KING OF THE ISLES.

A.D. 1218.

THE King of the Islands* has letters of conduct, in coming to the King, to render him homage, and to amend the excesses committed upon the people of our Lord the King, as well in England as in Ireland, by men of his land, and during his stay, and at his departure. And the said conduct shall endure for fifteen days after Easter, in the second year of the reign of King Henry. Witness the Earl, at Winchester, the 16th day of January.

* Reginald.

PRO REGE INSULARUM.

FEDERA.

2 HEN. III. REX Insularum habet litteras de conductu, veniendo ad Regem, ad faciendum ei homagium, et ad emendandum excessus factos hominibus domini Regia tam in Anglia, quam in Hibernia, ab hominibus terræ suæ, et in morando et in recedendo.

Et durabit conductus ille usque in xv dies post Pascha, anno regni Henrici Regis secundo. Teste Comite, apud Winton', xvi die Januarii.

And it is commanded the Justice of Ireland, that, in the meanwhile, he should not inflict, nor permit to be inflicted, any annoyance, injury, or grievance upon the said king, or upon the subjects or lands of the said King of the Isles.

Et mandatum est justiciario Hiberniæ, quod interim non inferat, vel inferri permittat, molestiam aliquam, injuriam, aut gravamen dicto Regi, vel hominibus, vel terris ipsius Regis Insularum.

HENRY THE THIRD TO OLAVE.

A.D. 1218.

THE King, to Olave, King of Man, greeting. We ask you not to extend your hand to the Abbey of Furness, which is our free eleemosinary, and that you shall not suffer to be committed upon the Abbot or the monks of the said Abbey, nor upon their men, any injury, annoyance, or hurt. That henceforth so acting, it may not be necessary to use more severe means in this matter. Witness the King at Westminster, the 6th day of March.

ROTULI LITTERARUM CLAUSARUM.

2 HEN. III. REX Olavus Regi de Man salutem. Rogamus vos quatenus ad Abbatiam de Furnesio que libera elemosina nostra est manus non extendatis, nec Abbatii vel monachis ejusdem Abbatie vel hominibus suis ullam faciatis aut inferri permittatis injuriam molestiam aut gravamen. OF SAFE CONDUCT FOR REGINALD, KING OF MAN.

A.D. 1219.

THE King, to all his faithful subjects who may inspect these letters, greeting.

Know that we have taken into safe and sure conduct, our beloved and faithful Reginald, king of Man, and his men, whom he has brought with him, to the whole of our ability, in returning to his land of Man.

Therefore we command you, not to inflict or permit to be inflicted any evil, loss, or hinderance, neither upon the said Reginald, king of Man, nor upon his people. And this conduct

3 HEN. III. REX omnibus ballivis et fidelibus suis, has litteras inspecturis, salutem.

Sciatis nos suscepisse in salvum et securum conductum dilectum et fidelem nostrum Reginaldum Regem de Man, et homines suos, quos secum duxerit, per totam potestatem nostram, in eundo versus terram suam de Man.

Et ideo vobis mandamus firmiter precipentes, quod nec eidem Reginaldo, Regi de Man, nec suis, malum, dampnum, aut impedimentum aliquid faciat, aut fieri permittatis.

shall endure to the Nativity of our Lord now at hand, in the fourth year of our reign.

And in testimony of this, &c.

Witness, Lord Peter, bishop of Winchester, at the New Temple, London, the 24th day of September, in the third year, &c.

Durebit autem conductus iste usque ad instans natale Domini, anno regni nostri quarto.

Et in hujus rei testimonium, etc.

FOR THE KING OF MAN.

A.D. 1219.

THE King, to all to whom these present letters shall come, greeting. Know that our beloved and faithful Reginald,
King of Man, came to our authority and service, and performed his homage to us. Therefore we advise you, that ye may come safely and securely into the country of the said Reginald, King of Man, and transact your business there, as long as may be necessary to our authority and service. And in testimony thereof, etc. Witness as above, in the year, &c., the third.

PRO REGE DE MAN.

3 HEN. III. REX omnibus, ad quos præsentes litteræ pervenient, salutem. Sciatis quod dilectus et fidelis noster Reginaldus Rex de Man venit ad fidem et servitium nostrum, et nobis homagium suum fecit. Et ideo vobis mandamus, quod in terram ipsius Reginaldi Regis de Man, salvo et secure veniatis, et negotia vestra ibidem expediatis, quamdiu fuerit ad fidem et servitium nostrum. Et in hujus, &c. Teste ut supra, anno, etc., tertio.

Reginald, King of Man, has letters of the lord the king for protection, directed to the Justice of Ireland, and the Barons and other faithful subjects of the King of Ireland; but at the close of these letters was appended this clause:

But if our enemies, or his, shall rebel against us, and him, to the loss of our or his land, then be ye earnest in your help, for the defence of our land and of his, to our safety and convenience, so long as he shall keep himself faithful towards us. And in testimony of this, etc. Witness, as above.

Reginaldus Rex de Man habet litteras domini Regis de protectione directas justiciario Hiberniæ et baronibus et aliis fidelibus Regis Hiberniæ; sed in fine litterarum illarum apposita fuit hæc clausula.

Si vero inimici nostri et sui insurrexerint in nos et in ipsum, ad dampnum terræ nostræ et suæ, tunc ei viriliter sitis auxiliantes ad terræ nostræ et suæ defensionem, ad fidem et commodum nostrum, quamdiu fideliter se habebit erga nos. Et in hujus, &c. Teste ut supra.

GRANT OF KNIGHT'S FEE TO REGINALD.

A.D. 1219.

THE King to G. de Marischal, Justice of Ireland, greeting.
 Know that Reginald, King of Man, came to London and did homage to us. And we command that you give unto the same Reginald, King of Man, yearly, two hogsheads of wine, and one hundred and twenty crannocks of corn, as he held the same the gift of our father king John, without any hinderance, as a fee of one knight, with appurtenances in Ireland, the same as in the time of our father king John. LETTERS OF PROTECTION FOR OLAVE.

A.D. 1285.

OF SAFE CONDUCT, FOR THE KING OF MANN AND THE ISLANDS.

THE King, to all bailiffs and his faithful subjects, etc., greeting. Know that we have taken under our safe and sure conduct, our beloved friend, Olave, King of Mann and the Islands, whilst coming into England to confer with us, whilst tarrying there, and in departing thence. Therefore we command you, that ye make no impediment, loss, or grievance, nor suffer any to be made, to the aforesaid king and his people whom he may bring with him, neither whilst coming to England, during his stay here, nor when departing hence, as aforesaid. In testimony whereof, we have caused these our letters to be made patent and to endure until the Feast of St. Peter ad vincula. In the 19th year of our reign. Witness the king at Windsor the 13th day of April.

By the King himself.

The same has letters of conduct, under the same form, addressed to M. son of Gerold, justice of Ireland, and to all his bailiffs and faithful subjects in Ireland, to endure until the term aforesaid, this being added, that they do not make, nor cause to be made, any injury, hinderance, nor grievance to the said King, in his lands and possessions, in the meanwhile. Witness as above.

morando, et inde recedendo, sicut prædictum est, nullum faciat, aut fieri permittatis impedimentum, dampnum aut gravamen. In cuius rei testimonium has litteras nostras fieri fecimus, duraturas usque ad festum Sancti Petri ad vincula.

KING OLAVE, AND THE GUARDING OF THE COAST
OF IRELAND.—A.D. 1235.

FOR THE KING OF MANN, RESPECTING THE GUARDING OF THE COAST OF IRELAND.

THE King, to his faithful and beloved M. son of Gerold, his Justice in Ireland, greeting. Know that we have given, and by our charter have confirmed to our beloved and faithful Olave, King of Mann and the Islands, for his homage and service in guarding, at his own cost, the coast of the sea of England towards Ireland, and towards the Isle of Mann, and likewise the coast of the sea of Ireland towards England, and towards the aforesaid Isle of Mann, lest injury might happen to the aforesaid our lands

19 HEN. III. REX dilecto et fidei suo M. filio Geroldi, justiciario suo Hiberniæ, salutem. Sciatis nos deisse, et cartâ nostrâ confirmasse dilecto et fidei nostro Olavo, Regi Manniæ et Insularum, pro homagio suo et servitio custodiendi, ad custum suum, costeram maris Angliæ versus Hiberniam et versus insulam de Mannia, et similiter costeram maris Hiberniæ versus Angliam, et versus prædictam insulam de Man' of England and Ireland, by sea, upon these coasts, according to his ability, forty marks and one hundred crannocks of corn, and five doles of wine, to be annually received from our land of Ireland at the Feast of Easter, through the hands of our Justice of Ireland, so long as the aforesaid King of Mann shall truly and faithfully serve us, by guarding the aforesaid coasts.

We therefore command you to cause him to receive the aforesaid forty marks, and the aforesaid one hundred crannocks of corn, and the aforesaid five doles of wine, yearly, as is aforesaid, commencing the first term at Easter next ensuing, in the 20th year of our reign.

In testimony whereof we send you these our letters patent. Witness the King, at Westminster, the eleventh day of July.

ne dampnum prædictis terris nostris Angliæ et Hiberniæ, pro posse suo, per mare incosteris illis possit evenire quadraginta marcas, et centum crannocos frumenti, et quinque dolia vini, singulis annis percipienda in terrâ nostrâ Hiberniæ, ad terminum Paschæ, per manus justiciarii nostri Hiberniæ, quamdiu prædictus Rex Manniæ bene et fideliter nobis serviret, prædictas costeras custodiendo.

Et ideo vobis mandamus, quod prædictas quadraginta marcas, et prædictos centum crannocos frumenti, et prædicta quinque dolia vini, singulis annis ei habere faciat, sicut prædictum est; incipientes primum terminum ad Pascha proximo venturum, Anno regni nostri xx.

In cuius rei testimonium has litteras nostras patentes vobis mittimus. Teste Rege, apud Westmonasterium, undecimo die Julii.

HENRY III. PROTECTS THE ISLE OF MANN
DURING OLAVE'S ABSENCE IN NORWAY.

A.D. 1236.

OF PROTECTION FOR OLAVE, KING OF MANN, ABOUT TO GO TO THE PARTS OF NORWAY.

THE King, to all his bailiffs and faithful subjects, who may inspect these present letters, greeting. Know that we have taken under our protection and defence, the people, lands, goods, rents, and all the possessions of our beloved and faithful Olave, King of Mann and the Islands, who is about to set out, upon his own affairs, to the parts of Norway, at the command of CHARTER OF HARALD.—A.D. 1245.*

TO all the faithful in Christ by whom this present writing may be seen or heard. H[arald] by the grace of God, King of Mann and the Islands, eternal salvation in the Lord. It is just and consentient with every law that kingly authority should yield an easy assent to the pious vows and honest petitions of suppliants, and more especially to assure our holy religion that it will not depart from the paths of justice. On this account it is that yielding to the pious prayers of the lord Abbot of Furnes and the convent of the same place, we signify to you, that we have taken the vessels of the said Abbot and monks, and all persons, whether secular or religious, together with their goods,

DISPUTE BETWEEN THE KING OF IRELAND AND THE KING OF SCOTLAND FOR POSSESSION OF THE ISLE OF MANN.

A.D. 1272.*

IN olden time there was a great dissension between the King of Ireland and the King of Scotland for disseisin of the Isle of Mann, which of them ought to be lord of the Island aforesaid. There were men skilled in the law, alleging various reasons and arguing on both sides. After many and various disputations had been held upon the said business, the kings could in no way agree, but that champions should be chosen, and that whosoever's champion should be victor, the same should be esteemed the true lord of the island. But one among the wise men there congregated, whose wisdom exceeded that of the others, as it seemed, thus spoke: "O kings, set aside the war appointed between us, and yield to my council. Is not the land of Ireland free from venomous reptiles, wherefore there is neither serpent, nor toad, nor &c. But the land of Scotland is much defiled with reptiles ; send therefore messengers to the Island [of Mann], faithful explorers, who may inspect the Island ; if indeed venomous reptiles may there be found, in truth, the Island shall more properly belong to thee, King of Scotland, than to thee, O King of Ireland. But if no serpent or other poisonous thing be there, in the smallest degree found, in truth, to thee O King of Ireland, does the Island deservedly belong." This opinion pleased all ; men were sent to explore, and the Island adjudged to remain to the kingdom of Scotland. Beloved as this Island is, situated in the midst of the sea, so is the human soul hemmed in, in this world, because at the first this mighty sea, etc. these kings

COVENANT OF MARRIAGE
 BETWEEN ERIC, KING OF NORWAY, AND MARGARET,
 DAUGHTER OF ALEXANDER, KING OF SCOTS,
 WHEREIN MENTION IS MADE OF PRETENSIONS TO THE ORKNEYS AND TO THE ISLE OF MANN.

A.D. 1281.

IN the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen. This is a final concord made on the Feast of St. James the Apostle, in the year of our Lord one thousand two hundred and eighty-one, at Rokesburg ;

CONVENTIO SUPER MATRIMONIO
 INTER ERICUM REGEM NORWAGIÆ ET MARGARETAM, FILIAM ALEXANDRI REGIS SCOTTORUM,
 CONTRAHENDO ubi et de Prætensionibus hinc inde ad
 ORCHADAS ET INSULAM MANNÆ.

9 Ed. I. IN nomine Patris, et Filii, et Spiritus Sancti, Amen. Hæc est finalis conventio, facta in festo sancti Jacobi apostoli, anno Domini millesimo ducentesimo octogesimo primo, apud Rokesburg ;

Between the illustrious prince, lord Alexander, by the grace of God, King of Scotland, in his name and in the name of the noble damsel Margaret, his beloved daughter, by the consent of lord Alexander his son, and of the whole council of the said lord the King on the one part, and the venerable father lord Peter, bishop of Orkney, and the noble lord Berners baron [of Berkrey,] master Bernard the chancellor, and brother Maurice of the order of Minors, vicars, and solemn and special ambassadors of the lord Eryc, by the grace of God illustrious King of Norway upon the other part, respecting the espousals contracted, and the marriage to be contracted between the aforesaid lord the King of Norway, and the said noble damsel Margaret, namely :

That the King of Scotland gives the same Margaret his daughter to the said lord Eryc, King of Norway, to wife.

Inter illustrem principem, dominum Alexandrum, Dei gratiâ, Regem Scot' nomine suo, et nomine nobilis domicellæ Margaretæ filiæ suæ karissimæ, de consensu domini Alexandri filii sui, et totius consilii dicti domini Regis, ex parte unâ;

Et venerabilem patrem, dominum Petrum Orchadensem episcopum, et nobilem virum dominum Bernerium baron [de Berkrey,] magistrum Bernardum cancellarium, et fratrem Mauritium de ordine Minorum, procuratores et nuncios sollempnes et speciales domini Eryci, Dei gratiâ, Regis Norwagiæ illustris, ex altera :

Super sponsalibus contractis, et matrimonio contrahendo, inter, præfatum dominum Regem Norwagiæ, et dictam nobilem domicellam Margaretam, videlicet :

Quod dominus Rex Scotiæ dat dictam Margaretam filiam suam dicto domino Eryco Regi Norwagiæ in uxorem.

XXIV.—The said King of Scotland has assigned to the said King of Norway, (for losses, expenses, and interest in that matter alone, if the said daughter of the King of Scotland should depart from the said contract before the said King of Norway shall attain to the age of fourteen years complete, and the marriage be ratified,) the whole of Mann, with all the right which the said King of Scotland has or shall have in the same.

So that the said land with appurtenances may from that time forth belong to the said King of Norway and his heirs, in fee and heirship, if the said daughter of the King of Scotland shall be unwilling to ratify and consummate the said marriage, or to make amends to the said King of Norway, his heirs or assigns, for losses, expenses and interest, together with the aforesaid amend of one hundred thousand pounds.

And the instruments of quit-claim of the said King of Norway upon the said Isle of Mann, which the said King of Scotland

XXIV.—Obligavit etiam dictus Rex Scotiæ dicto Regi Norwagiæ (pro dampnis, expensis, et interesse in illum casum tamen ; si dicta filia Regis Scotiæ a dicto contractu resilierit, antequam dictus Rex Norwagiæ fuerit quatuordecim annorum completorum et matrimonium fuerit ratificatum) totam Manniam cum omni jure quo dictus Rex Scotiæ habet, vel habere poterit in eadem ;

Ita quod prædicta terra, cum pertinentiis, dicto Regi Norwagiæ, et hæredibus suis, ex tunc remaneat, in feodo et hæreditate, cum dicta filia Regis Scotiæ dictum matrimonium noluerit ratificare et consummare, vel dampna, expensas, et interesse, una cum prædicta poenâ centum mille librarum, dicto Regi Norwagiæ, vel hæredibus suis, vel assignatis resarcire :

Et instrumenta quieta clamationis dicti Regis Norwagiæ super holds in his possession shall from that time be wanting in effect, and be by law void and of no value.

The instruments of the said King of Scotland respecting the said sum of one hundred marks, to be paid annually, remaining in the possession of the King of Norway continuing in full force.

XXV.—And be it known, that the assignment of the land of Mann has force only from the time of the passing over of the said Margaret, and only in that matter, if the said Margaret shall be unwilling to ratify the marriage, when the said King of Norway shall have completed his fourteenth year.

XXVI.—And be it known, that in all the premises it is lawful for both parties, that the period at which the money should be paid, may be changed or delayed on both sides, for a certain term, on account of war or pirates, or any other fortuitous and unforedicta insula Manniae, quæ dictus Rex Scotiæ penes se habet, ex tunc viribus careant, et cassa sint, et irrita ipso jure;

Instrumentis dicti Regis Scotiæ, super dicta summam pecuniam centum marcarum, annuatim percipiendam, penes Regem Norwagiæ residentibus, in suo robore duraturis.

XXV.—Et sciendum est, quod obligatio de terra Manniae tantum habet locum a tempore transfretationis ipsius Margaretæ; et solummodo in illum casum, si dicta Margareta noluerit matrimonium ratificare, cum dictus Rex Norwagiæ fuerit quatuordecim annorum completorum.

XXVI.—Et sciendum est quod, in omnibus præmissis, salvum est utriusque parti, quod tempus, quo pecunia solveter, pro quolibet termino, ex utrâque parte, per guerram, per piratas, vel per ali-seen cause, without danger, prejudice, or loss to the parties in the premises.

XXXIV.—Likewise the said King of Scotland has assigned the whole of Mann with appurtenances for one hundred thousand pounds, and losses, expenses, and interest in that matter, if, when the said King of Norway shall have completed his fourteenth year, and shall, as far as in him lies, have consummated the marriage at Berewick, he does not set at liberty the said sureties* (if he shall have first received them there) unless death or some other legitimate cause shall hinder him, or that they shall withdraw of their own free will.

In testimony whereof, the said representatives of the King of Norway have affixed their seals to the portion of this cyrograph remaining in the possession of the King of Scotland, but to the quem casum fortuitum et inopinatum, possit mutari seu prorogari, sine periculo partium circa praemissa, prejudicio vel jacturâ.

XXXIV.—Obligavit etiam dictus dominus Rex Scotiaæ totam Manniam, cum pertinentiis pro centum millibus librarum, et dampnis, expensis, et interesse in illum casum, si dictos obsides, cum dictus Rex Norwagiæ compleverit quatuordecim annos, et matrimonium, quantum in ipso est, consummaverit apud Berewic' (si eos prius ibidem receperit) nisi casus mortis, vel aliis casus legitimus præpedierit, vel propriâ voluntate recesserint, libere non dimittat.

In cuius rei testimonium, parti istius cyrographi, penes dominum Regem Scotiaæ residenti, dicti procuratores Regis Norwagiæ sigilla sua apposuerunt.

part remaining in the possession of the said representatives, the seal of the said lord the King of Scotland is appended.

Endorsed,—Cyrograph at Berewick.

Parti vero residenti penes dictos procuratores, sigillum dicti domini Regis Scotiæ est appensum.

Dors.—Scriptum cyrographatum apud Berewic'.

ANTHONY BEEK, BISHOP OF DURHAM.

A.D. 1283.

ANTHONY BEEK was elected bishop of Durham A.D. 1283; he was a great man, and, after the king, second to none in the kingdom in costly habit and military power, giving great assistance to the king in war, and by prudent counsel. Sometimes in the Scottish war he had of his own family twenty-six standard-bearers, and usually one hundred and forty knights of his own adherents.

The king being incensed against Anthony, bishop of Durham, because he had not kept the agreement he had entered upon with Richard, prior of Durham, through the mediation of the king, took from him the castle of Bernard with its appurtenances, and bestowed it upon the earl of Warwick, Hert and Hertnesse upon Robert de Clifford, Kewerston upon Galfrido de Hertilpole, which the bishop held the gift of John de Baliol, Robert de Bruce, and Christopher de Seton. The king likewise took from him Werke in Tyndale, Penrith, and the church of Symondburne.

This Anthony appropriated to the church of Durham the manor of Evenwood and a sum of money the gift of John Haunsard. Likewise the manor of Auckland with the chapel and vaults which he had most sumptuously built. The castle of Somerton near Lincoln, and the manor of Eltham near London, which he curiously constructed, he gave the first to the king, and the second afterwards to the queen. The Island of Man, the gift of the king, he held to the close of his life.

Abstulit ei etiam rex Werke in Tyndale, Penreth, et ecclesiam de Symondburne.

Iste Anthonius appropriavit ecclesie Dunelmensi manerium de Evenwood, data summa pecunie Johanni Haunsard. Manerium de Aucland cum capella et cameris sumptuosissime construxit. Castrum de Somerton juxta Lincolniam, et manerium de Eltham, juxta London, curiosissime edificavit, sed primum regi et secundum regine postea contulit. Insulam de Man, ex dono domini regis, usque ad terminum vite habuit.

Anthony, bishop of Durham, died at Waltham, and was buried in the church of Durham, A.D. 1310, contrary to the custom of his predecessors, in the front of the church to the north side. For before him, out of reverence to the body of St. Cuthbert, no corpse was permitted to approach the church of Durham.

Mortuus est Anthonius episcopus Dunelmensis apud Waltham, et sepultus est in ecclesia Dunelmensi anno Domini 1310, contra morem predecessorum suorum in fronte ecclesie, ad aquilonalem partem. Ante illum enim, ob reverentiam corporis St. Cuthberti, non est permisum corpus mortuum ingredi ecclesiam Dunelmensem.

CHARTER OF EDWARD II. KING OF ENGLAND,
GRANTING THE ISLE OF MAN TO HENRY DE BELLO MONTE FOR LIFE.

A.D. 1308.

THE King to all those to whom, &c., greeting. Know that for the good service which our beloved kinsman and faithful servant Henry de Bello Monte has hitherto paid us, we have given to him, and for us and our heirs have granted all our land of Man, to have and to hold to the said Henry for the term of his life, of us and our heirs, freely, peaceably, truly, entirely,

EDWARD II. RESUMES POSSESSION OF THE ISLE OF MAN.—A.D. 1310.

THE King to his beloved and faithful Henry de Bello Monte or his lieutenant in the land of Man, greeting. Since on the 16th day of March in the third year of our reign, we, of our mere will, have, by our letters patent, granted to the prelates, earls and barons of our kingdom to choose certain persons from among themselves to regulate the state of our household and of the kingdom aforesaid, and have granted to those so chosen full power to regulate the state of the household and kingdom aforesaid, as in the letters, etc., and the venerable father R., archbishop of Canterbury, and other prelates, earls, and barons,

RESPECTING THE REMOVAL OF THE NAVY OF
ROBERT BRUCE FROM THE ISLE OF MAN.

A.D. 1311.

THE King to the sheriffs, and all his bailliffs and faithful subjects in the counties of Chester, Lancaster, Cumberland, and Westmoreland, to whom, etc., greeting. We have learnt from certain persons that Robert Bruce, our enemy and traitor, is striving with all his power, and purposes to despatch all his navy during the present winter, from the outward Islands, to our Island of Man, for the purpose of destroying it, and of

FOR THE COMMUNITY OF THE ISLE OF MAN.

A.D. 1343.

THE King to his Justice of Ireland or his Lieutenant, greeting. It has been gravely shown to us by way of complaint upon the part of the men of the community of the Isle of Man, being in fealty to us, that since they, as well for the merchants of England, Ireland, and Wales, flocking to the said Island, as for themselves, have lately made a fine for three hundred marks with our enemies in Scotland to enjoy a certain sufferance of peace with them, for the period of one year, and this with the
